

Milly in need!

During a walk, Milly got such a fright that she broke loose and fled with her flexi leash.

After a long night of unsuccessful searching, the concerned owners contacted Sichhhenn.lu. It quickly became clear that the emergency response team had to move out.

The search dog Argos was able to find Milly's track quickly. He followed her scent for an hour and finally found Milly in a wooded area. The flexi leash was caught up so badly in a bush that Milly could no longer free herself!

Happy End for Milly
after her excursion!

What to do if your dog ran away?

Very important: Stay in the place where your dog was seen last!

If your dog ran away not far from home, ask someone to wait at your home. If the dog chooses to run home and comes along, do not call it.

If your dog ran away from home, leave the garage, garden gate, etc open. This gives your dog the opportunity to come back in or to get onto your property.

Do not panic, do not run all over the place, and under no circumstances send out search teams!

Your dog is in panic mode and, if he feels being followed, will only keep fleeing.
In this extreme situation, dogs usually no longer recognise their own caregiver and flee from everything they hear or scare them even more.

In the event that search dogs are used, we need a scent sample of your dog.

Please contact us so that we can advise you on by phone.

In case your dog is still missing after several hours:

- contact the police
- contact the forest ranger
- Enquiry with the animal shelters
- Report your dog as missing with Tasso, Findefix, ID Chips or any other animal registry where your dog is registered
- Contact Sichhenn.lu in order to discuss further measures like scent trails or the use of search dogs

Facebook offers a good platform to report your dog missing!

It is very important to mention that nobody should go looking for the dog. Reports on sightings with precise information such as time and place are crucial and should be submitted via personal message.

When does it make sense to use search dogs?

How do I secure the scent sample?
